Applying to graduate school?

If you are planning to pursue a master's or doctorate degree, you may be required to complete a graduate admission examination. The test you are required to take will depend on the program you are entering. Check with your academic department for admission and testing requirements.

This sheet is designed to provide basic information regarding the Graduate Record Examinations (GRE), Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT), and Miller Analogies Test (MAT). Complete information regarding registration and testing procedures for these examinations can be found in their registration bulletins or by visiting their web sites.

Graduate Management Admission Test® (GMAT)
www.mba.com

The Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT) measures general verbal, mathematical, and analytical writing skills that are developed over a long period of time. The GMAT does not presuppose any specific knowledge of business or other specific content areas. It is designed to help graduate schools of business assess the qualifications of applicants for advanced study in business and management. The GMAT is a computer-adaptive test that is available year-round.

Fee: $250
Registration: Register online at www.mba.com or call GMAT customer service at 1-800-717-4628.
